Mission

The Honolulu Community-Media Council — composed of individuals from the media and the community — is a nonpartisan, non-governmental, independent group.

It seeks to promote accurate and fair journalism in Hawai'i, broaden public understanding of the role of the media, foster discussion of media issues, strengthen public support for First Amendment rights and freedoms, and improve public access to information.

Activities

Council activities include:

- Celebrating "Freedom of Information Day" annually in March to honor the Bill of Rights and the public's right to know
- Bestowing the "Fletcher Knebel Award for Journalism Excellence" on an outstanding member of the media as part of the "Freedom of Information Day" celebration
- Holding membership meetings with special guest speakers
- Conducting open forums on media issues
- Resolving disputes between the media and citizens

The Honolulu Community-Media Council is a nonprofit, tax-exempt 501(c)(3) organization.
